E Early Intervention,
Clinical Services Building, 139
The major goal of the Early Intervention Program is to expand and improve educational and therapeutic services for infants and young children who are at risk for or experiencing disabilities and their families.

F Communication Disorders and Sciences,
HEDCO 2nd Floor Reception Desk
CDS is part of the department of Special Education and Clinical Sciences that trains students to work as speech language pathologists (SLP) in schools, clinics, and hospitals. It provides undergraduate, masters and doctoral degrees.

G School Psychology,
HEDCO 340
Our nationally-recognized graduate programs provide outstanding opportunities for students who are interested in receiving state-of-the-art training in School Psychology. If you are interested in a behaviorally-oriented training program that focuses on evidence-based practices for prevention and intervention of learning and behavioral problems, this program is for you!

H Family and Human Services (FHS),
HEDCO 3rd Floor Reception Desk
If you want to help children, youth, adults, and families address issues in their lives, the family and human services (FHS) major is a program you should explore. FHS students build a foundation through course work and field experiences in learning and development, professional communication and collaboration, social policy for children and families, and creative approaches to solving problems and making effective decisions.

I Service-Learning Program (SLP),
HEDCO 370
Come and GET OUT! with the Service-Learning Program. Use what you learn in the classroom to solve real-life problems and develop the tools you need to be an active and contributing citizen and community member. Focus your work in one of five areas: health, poverty and income, education, the environment, or human rights and peace.

J Learning Commons,
HEDCO 110, Front Desk
The College of Education Learning Commons was designed as a student work area with a focus on group or collaborative learning activities.
